His address will be delivered Tuesday night at $:36 o'clock in the Young Men's Christian Associatian auditorium, his subject being "Keats for the Kitchen." Like his father, Dr. Lyman Abbott, the younger man, who "cuts" Theodore Roosevelt's "stuff," unites with his scholarly attainments and pleasing literary style the broadest interest in all public movements—educational and social, as well as political. Being a newspaper man, he will talk vocational training from the standpoint of the layman.

Another speaker of prominence to the college women will be Miss Eleanor Lord, dean of Goucher College, who will discuss "What the A. B. Degree Should Represent." She will follow Mr. Abbott.

If the financial arrangements can be made it is proposed to rebuild the Retreat, the new hospital to be fire proof, and designed to meet all modern requirements for both charity and pay patients, making it in many respects the finest hospital in Richmond, it will be a general hospital, open to all reputable practitioners and surgeons without distinction or preference. The plan involves an outlay of from $250,000 to $300,000. All of those interested or desirous of taking part in this movement are invited to attend the organization meeting on Tuesday night. Eugene C. Massie is chairman of the rebuilding committee. The board of directors consists of the following: John P. Branch, president: Eugene C. Massie, vice-president; J. Taylor Ellyson, secretary and treasurer; Howard Swineford, M. E. Marcuse, Herbert W. Jackson, John R. Wheat and William H. White.

Publication.

On a question submitted to him by State Librarian H. R. McIlwaine and Superintendent of Public Printing Davis Elottom, Governor Mann ruled yesterday that the list of 18,000 Revolution, ary soldiers recently obtained from the files of the War Department should be included in the annual report of the State Library.

Mr. Bottom has never felt that these lists of names should be published as a public document by the library itself. In the report of last year there were 40,000 names of Virginia soldiers in the War of the Revolution, obtained by Dr. McIlwaine from all sources—the library, acts of Legislature, Auditor's files and other material. These took up no less than 474 printed pages. Since that time the librarian has been given access to the names in the archives of the department in Washington, and has secured 18,000 there, about $500 of which were not in the original list of 40,000.

So vigorous was Mr. Bottom's opposition to putting material of this sort

The board of directors of the Society for the Betterment of Housing and Livofficial sanction last night to the eflie interest in the "Clean-up Campaign" advocated recently in the Mayor's proclamation, to be carried on during the two weeks from May 5 to 17. Mr. Weber was directed to devote as much time as may be necessary to the work time as may be necessary to the work of organizing a campaign of education and publicity and to co-operate with the Mayor, the Chief Health Officer, the Superintendent of Street Cleaning and the Chief of Police in their endeavor to make this campaign a success.

submitted an elaborate statement of the existing ordinances and regula-tions for the maintenance of clean tions for the maintenance of clean yards and premises, the cleaning of streets and the removal of rubbish and garbage, and called attention to some of the difficulties now in the way of the city authorities in their endeavors to enforce these regulations. The committee emphasized particularly the lack of sufficient co-operation on the part of many citizens who persist in throw-ing paper and other rubbish on the streets and sidewalks, and in the yards board determined to dismiss him. All members of the board, with the exception of Commissioner Boykin, were present. The vote for dismissal, it is understood, was four to three.

The duty of discharging the officer fell upon Chief of Police Werner, and it was to him that Belton surrendered his badge and weapons. He made no comment as he walked from police of the street and sidewalks, and in the yards and alleys, and the inadequacy of the present force of employes in the service of the Street Cleaning Department.

It appears from the report of this committee that while there are city ordinances which prohibit expectorat-ing upon or throwing fruit skins or peelings on the sidewalks or floors of street cars, etc., the throwing of medi-cine or merchandise on private prem-ises and the dropping of trash on pub-lic streets and alleys, and requiring occupants and owners of houses and lots to remove all filth and rubbish from their premises, these regulations are not adequately enforced because the authorities do not have a sufficient force of employes.

On the other hand, there are no pro-visions in the City Code which pro-hibit the throwing of paper on the streets and sidewalks or the distribution of circuta. cast, and there are no receptacles for paper, fruit skins and other rash along the streets for the convenence of pedestrians. Attention was also called to the fact that, owing to the many unpaved streets which intersect those which are paved, much of the dirt is carried by the wagons and horses from the unpaved to the paved streets which makes it difficult to keep the latter clean. the latter clean

It was also pointed out that the absence of any regulation requiring garbage cans to be covered causes garbage frequently to be scattered upon the streets and private premises, thus furnishing feeding places for flies.

A list of proposed ordinances and appropriations concerning streets and alleys and the removal of garbage and refuse recommended by the committee was referred to the Committee on Legislation for further attention. The hour for the dedicatory ceremonies has been placed at 1 o'clock, being made necessary because of the Young Women's Christian Association pageant that is to follow. Addresses will be delivered by Mayor George Ainsile and Judge George L Christian, while Rev. E. Osgood will offer prayer.
